

AWARD DESCRIPTIONS AND QUESTIONS

Graduate of the Year

This award acknowledges a standout individual who is in the early stages of their career in the wealth management and financial services industry. This individual shows significant promise and potential at this starting point of their working journey and displays a high level of aptitude in their role and in their relationship-building skills. They bring a high level of professionalism to their workplace and are well-positioned to succeed in their current and future working opportunities. The recipient of this award will have also shown an interest in contributing to improving women's outcomes in the industry and in their community - or is already involved in this space.

To be eligible for this award, you must have two years or less experience in the wealth and financial services industry.

Questions - up to 300 words each

Please answer these questions on behalf of the nominee (yourself or another individual).

1. What accomplishments is the nominee most proud of in their role in the last 12 months that have helped to elevate the success of their early career or their business, and what personal values do they credit for their achievements?
2. What are the nominee's aspirations as an early entrant in the industry and what contributions are they hoping to make in their current or future role?
3. Describe the importance of advocating for issues plaguing the industry or broader community to the nominee, ie. female representation and experiences, social and environmental issues etc. How do they see themselves contributing to delivering improved and stronger outcomes, now or in the future?
