

AWARD DESCRIPTIONS AND QUESTIONS

Superannuation Professional of the Year

Rising Star (between two and five years experience)

This award recognises the accomplishments of a female professional starting her career in the superannuation sector. This individual may not yet have much experience or involvement in the intersection between women's issues and superannuation, but is inspired to help and shows a keen interest in bettering super and community member outcomes. They are also committed to building relationships to deliver success in their role and within the industry.

Women with the following job titles (but are not limited to) are encouraged to apply: superannuation manager, SMSF manager, superannuation administrator, member services specialists, product manager, client services, superannuation executives and more. To be eligible for this award, you must have between two and five years of experience in the superannuation space. Note: financial planners/advisers are encouraged to apply for their state-relevant Financial Planner category.

Questions - up to 300 words each

Please answer these questions on behalf of the nominee (yourself or another individual).

1. What accomplishments is the nominee most proud of in their role in the last 12 months that have helped to elevate the success of themselves or their business?
2. What personal principles does the nominee strongly value and how has it strengthened their work ethic and motivated them to perform in their current role?
3. Describe the importance of advocating for issues plaguing the industry or broader community to the nominee, ie. female representation and experiences, social and environmental issues etc. How do they see themselves contributing to delivering improved and stronger outcomes, now or in the future?
